Who is he?

The Entertainment Industry's Best Kept Secret!

An integral part of Malcolm's astounding performances over the past 20 years is his ability to "fly under the wire", keeping his real identity secret from everyone until the time is right to reveal himself! He has performed under many guises, from a humble waiter to guest speaker - even a US senator with accompanying motorcade - carrying off each tailor-made performance with consummate ease and aplomb.

What does he do?

Mindblowing Entertainment To Suit Your Needs

Malcolm's unique blend of skills and charisma have made him a hit all over the world, bringing fun and laughter to cities and cultures as diverse as Tokyo, Mumbai, Washington DC, New York, Dubai, Frankfurt, Miami, Paris, Seychelles, Sydney, Bangkok...

To attempt to adequately explain what it is Malcolm brings to your function would be near impossible: it is an intensely personal performance, whereby each performance is tailor-made for the client and his guests – using in-jokes, technical and industry-specific information. Over so many years solid and dependable work, word-of-mouth recommendation has proven to be Malcolm's strongest selling point: whether it be performing his rip-roaring routine as "The Stranger", or artfully handing out personalised 'awards' to members of the audience in his famously hilarious "Awards Dinner", or simply putting his own unique twist on the role of Compere and Maitre D' for the evening, garnishing your event with humour and magical, mindreading feats.

*"Amazing!" "Mindblowing!"
"Thank you for making our party such a success.
Everyone is still wondering how you managed it!"*

Malcolm's ability to put an audience at ease has been harnessed by many diverse clients, helping to break the ice at functions and seminars, putting their staff and guests at ease and ensuring the event goes smoothly and most enjoyably. Malcolm's skills at bringing even complete strangers together, having them joining in has helped ensure increased morale and helped expedite team-building sections of conferences and seminars.

Of course, those skills are just at home in private functions, where familiarity guarantees a rip-roaring evening of fun and laughter and fond memories for everyone involved.

Whether through the subtle use of Malcolm Milton's unique blend of skills - or centre stage at the end of a glorious dinner – Malcolm can guarantee a fantastic night out for you and your guests that will linger long in the memory...
