

Jazz Tradition

Gerry Rose's Jazz Tradition is a versatile group of experienced musicians offering quality small-group traditional jazz - music to put a smile on your face! The wide repertoire includes New Orleans and Dixieland standards, and many popular tunes and ballads from the 1930s and 1940s - from Fats Waller, Hoagy Carmichael, Irving Berlin and a host of others.

This is timeless music, suitable for a wide variety of occasions - parties, anniversaries, weddings, corporate events - as well as jazz clubs and festivals. It is equally suitable for both listening and dancing, or simply as background music.

Jazz Tradition is available as a trio or quartet. The usual trio consists of clarinet/saxes, banjo/guitar/vocals and double-bass/sousaphone. For a quartet either drums or trumpet is added. The lineup can be varied to suit the individual occasion, and can be enlarged to provide a five or six-piece Dixieland band.*

Gerry Rose // August 2007